

“Carlson Software outperforms all competitors across every tested metric.” says Clear Seas Research

So, this is pretty impressive for Carlson Software... no?

The Surveying & Mapping Software CLEAReport from Clear Seas Research is based on an independent study performed each year that, among other things, determines and/or measures:

- Which surveying and mapping software manufacturers are industry professionals aware of?
- Which brands of CAD software, data collector/controller software, and/or GIS software did industry professionals purchase in the past year?
- How do the brands perform on technological leadership, price fairness, product support, and product quality?
- Which surveying and mapping software brands will industry professionals consider purchasing?

Their latest report includes data collected in November and December 2018 and concludes that “Carlson Software outperforms all competitors across every tested metric.” Well done Carlson Software!

You can read the press release from Carlson Software here and more about the 2018 SURVEYING & MAPPING INDUSTRY SOFTWARE STUDY from Clear Seas Research here. updated link from American Surveyor [here]