That CAD Girl

Frequently Asked Questions

What options do I have for training on CAD or Carlson Software?

Lots!

But, don't forget – there's a difference between Carlson software TRAINING and Carlson Software TECH SUPPORT… you have to pay for one and the other is free!

I recommend you Click here to complete our Training Questionnaire – this will help you (and us) identify the training that will work best for you.

If it's training you need, the best and most timely training I provide is through my live webinars or custom online training. You can see the list of upcoming webinars here or follow this link to Request Custom Training to schedule one-on-one custom training.

If it's movies and videos you want, Carlson has an extensive library of recorded webinars and I've posted the webinars I presented on Carlson's behalf here in my Video Library.

And, if you prefer written material, you may be interested in my Carlson Self-Study Training Manuals. These don't cover everything Carlson… they're more of the inch-wide but mile deep variety.
